

Master Traditional Blood Movement Techniques in a Two-Day Intensive

In Japanese Oriental Medicine, the free flow of Blood and Qi forms the foundation of health. Blood stasis—known in Japan as Oketsu—often precedes other imbalances and can significantly limit therapeutic outcomes when left unaddressed.

This intensive two-day workshop provides hands-on mastery of specialized Japanese cupping and microbleeding techniques rarely taught outside Japan. Through extensive supervised practical training, you'll develop confidence in addressing a wide range of challenging clinical presentations.

Course Details

Dates: Saturday/Sunday November 7/8th, 2026

Location: China Books workshop space, 234 Swanston St Melbourne

Register Now

Secure Your Place Today
$100 non-refundable deposit required to secure your place.
<https://shiat.su/jap-cup-microbleed>

More info

Australian Shiatsu College
(03) 9387 1161
info@australianshiatsucollege.edu.au

Japanese Cupping and Microbleeding Strategies Workshop

Expand Your Clinical Capabilities with Rare Japanese Therapeutic Approaches

TRAINING FRAMEWORK

---

- Dr. Manaka's Blood Stasis Model - Assessment techniques and treatment planning
- Kyukaku (Japanese Cupping) - Traditional application techniques for different regions
- Shiraku Ho (Microbleeding) - Precision techniques for therapeutic outcomes
- Clinical Integration - Safety protocols and integration with other modalities
- Practical Applications - Addressing chronic pain, trauma, and inflammatory conditions

COURSE DETAILS

---

Investment:

- Practitioner: $890 ($800 Early Bird*)
- Student: $800 ($720 Early Bird*)
- *Early Bird rate when paid in full by September 25, 2026

CPD&E Points: 14

Pre-requisite: Open to Shiatsu therapists and acupuncturists

”

This workshop focuses on immediately applicable skills to address conditions associated with Blood stasis

“

PAUL MOVSESSIAN

---

Paul Movsessian brings four decades of clinical practice and direct training with Japan's moxibustion masters including Shinma Hideo, Hirato Motohiro, and Sakamoto Koichi. This training represents acquired knowledge rarely shared outside Japan, now accessible through Paul's commitment to preserving these healing traditions.

